Biography

Through a passionate and dedicated lifelong career spent fully immersed in all-aspects of the industry, artist Gina Williams has been able to share her exceptional talents and the true joy of music with the entire world. From the stage to the studio, from the speakers to the screens, Gina and her songs have traveled around the globe, entertaining millions of avid music-fans that love her vibrant & versatile style.

One of the most definable reasons for her success is her stunning level of authenticity – music means absolutely everything to her, and sharing it with others has always been the goal. From her earliest days growing up & emulating her idols while singing around the house, to the Master's Degree she obtained in her formal education as a Concert Pianist, to the multiple awards she's won & amazing venues she's performed at in her career – Gina put her heart & soul into every opportunity that has come her way.

With her remarkable commitment to providing audiences an experience in music they'll never forget, Gina's songs connect directly to the people because every note she plays & sings, is something they feel. Her pure love of the craft radiates through the impeccable skills she possesses and the sincerity that she uses them with; music has always been a part of her life, and she's passing that magic on to the people.

Gina's efforts to unite listeners around the world through her music have certainly not gone unnoticed. Not only has she written & performed songs in over ten separate languages, but her bold, expressive & all-inclusive approach to making music has allowed her to create freely without borders or limitations of any kind – Gina stays true to herself, follows her heart, and that process has flawlessly guided her to discover impressively unique melodies that naturally suit her strengths and skills in any genre or style.

Unafraid to challenge herself as an artist, she's fearlessly performed songs in Pop, Rock, EDM, Jazz, Gospel/Soul, World-Music, and also lent her talents as an actress to various film & television projects that have seen her working with notable titans in the industry such as John Goodman & John Cusack. Fully invested into every aspect of her career as an all-around entertainer, Gina ensures that every move she makes is a solid step forward by being just as active behind the scenes as she is in the center of the spotlight. She keeps the quality of her material perfectly in-line with her vision for her art & music by composing her own songs, producing her own records, designing her own live stage-shows with her own choreography – Gina is a self-made mogul that can proudly stand behind her work now & in the future.

Already back in action and working hard on the music for her most ambitious recordings to-date, Gina is currently putting the final touches on her latest release to complete 5 albums in 5 different genres: EDM, Pop, Rock, Classical, and Gospel. She has a true gift for making music that genuinely moves people and the desire to take her talents to the limit & beyond – Gina Williams is on a constant upward trajectory with her music & entertainment career, and she's grateful for every single moment.
